600 Owners Sign Up

As registration of landlords in Redwood City went into its final days in a move by the Office of Price Administration to freeze rents at March 1 levels, Mrs. J. M. Thompson, registrar in the post office, estimated that more than 600 signatures had been obtained.

All landlords in the San Francisco Bay Area must fill out the forms telling what rents were charged on Mar. 1, 1942, and Dr. Murray R. Benedict, OPA area chief, said today that 266,000 had done so in the first four days of registration.

On completion of this registration which affects owners of dwellings, the registration of hotels and rooming houses will be held starting Aug. 1.

All questions concerning the registration and the price freezing in San Mateo will be answered at OPA headquarters at 1298 Burlingame Ave., Burlingame.

DePatta said the truck had been provided by Kenneth Rowley, manager for Pepsi-Cola Co. here. Persons living between San Carlos and the south county line who have scrap metal to give to the campaign may have it carried away by calling for the truck at Redwood City 889, DePatta said.

Johns-Manville Payroll Up

For the first six months of 1942 salaries and wages of Johns-Manville Corp. totaled: $17,357,987.00, compared to $12,945,298.00 for the first six months of 1941, an increase of 34.1 per cent, according to figures received today by Manager E. S. Hurrell of the local Johns-Manville plant, from Lewis H. Brown, president.

Net earnings for the first six months of this year were equal, after preferred dividends of $2.01 per share of common stock had amounted to four cents out of each dollar received by the company. Mr. Hurrell said for the corresponding period last year, earnings after preferred dividends amounted to $3 net per share of common stock and represented eight cents out of each dollar received by the company. The net income of the company for the first half of this year was $1,799,389.00 compared to $3,018,801 for the corresponding period in 1941 provision for all taxes for the first six months of 1942 amounts to $9,039,013 compared to $5,355,623 for the same period last year, an increase of 68.8 per cent.

Sales for the first six months of 1942 amounted to $48,754,848 compared with sales of $38,813,510 for the first half of 1941. About eighty per cent of Johns-Manville's production is now for war purposes. Mr. Hurrell said the company's production is going largely to the federal government, the army and navy, industries engaged in the manufacture of war supplies and to the builders of war projects. According to the tabulation of income and expenses for the first six months of 1942 thirty five cents out of each dollar received by the company was spent for wages and salaries, thirty four cents for raw materials, other costs and expenses, eighteen cents for taxes, four cents for products for resales manufactured by others, three cents for depreciation, depletion and absolescence, two cents for war contingencies, two and one half cents was received by stockholders and one and one half cents for other needs of the business.

Drive Heads Establish Scrap Depot

Frank A. DePatta, chairman of the Redwood City drive for scrap metal, said today a central receiving depot has been established at 2405 El Camino Real for the convenience of contributors.

Local residents who have no means of transporting their scrap to the collection depot may telephone DePatta at 201-W or Scoutmaster K. T. Eugene at 1284-J. A truck will be sent to the homes of those desiring the service.

DePatta said many telephone calls were received yesterday as the local campaign got under way. He urged that all Redwood City-zens search their attics and garage for metal items which have outworn their usefulness.

Sea Scouts of the city today started a house-to-house campaign to obtain every available bit of scrap metal. Kenneth T. Eugene, scoutmaster, said 17 scouts are participating. They will divide the community into sections and continue the drive until every section has been covered adequately, he said.

There will be more entertaining "at home" this summer. Spare your budget by keeping bottled soft drinks on hand to serve with light refreshments.

Emerald Lake Owners To Abate Own Weeds

Individual property owners in the Emerald Lake district will be called upon to conduct their own weed abatement procedure, it was announced today following a meeting of directors of the Highlands District Improvement Club of Emerald Lake.

Members of the board decided that the lack of equity in property values would make a weed abatement district impossible in the near future.

A new program of war service activities will be outlined by Scout Commissioner J. V. Christie at a special meeting of all Scoutmasters and Skippers of the Council tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock at Boy Scout Headquarters, Burlingame. At the request of Leon Henderson, OPA director, local troops are undertaking this week a special dispatch bearer service to every home in the county. Plans for this project will be outlined by Christie. Salvage efforts in rubber, metal, rags, and paper will be reviewed and stepped up in a program to be presented for approval of the leaders.

Owners will be able to secure aid from the auxiliary fire squad operating under county fire warden or the Woodside Fire District, according to officers of the improvement club.

This month's meeting was held at the home of A. J. Bullerdieck. Pres. Gustave Chevassus spoke on the fire prevention program preceding the abatement discussion.

Belmont May Win Barge Project

BELMONT—Possibility that a plant to build sea-going cement barges might be located in Belmont arose today as officials of the Harbor Development Corp. disclosed that surveyors for the ship building firm of MacDonald and Kahn, San Francisco, had been viewing Belmont harbor land.

Previously Redwood City was considered as a site location but this move was abandoned when it was found that Redwood City harbor land was too soggy to permit the excavation of four basins in which to pour the barges.

The shipbuilding firm plans to construct the barges below the surface and later float them by opening flood gates.

Daniel St. George, agent for the development firm whose offices are located in the East, said that he has received no word from Felix Kahn, shipbuilding firm representative, but that he hopes to obtain a decision in the matter in the near future.

City Mgr. C. L. Dimmitt in Redwood City maintained that his observations led him to believe the Belmont soil was suitable for the project.

If constructed the plant would probably employ approximately 3000 men in four basins.

Meanwhile, a large industrial development underway near Bayshore Hwy. at South San Francisco was believed to be another cement ship project, this one under direction of Barrett & Hilp of San Francisco.

Brisbane Crash Brings $20,000 Damage Suit

Rental Head Hits Eviction Cases

More than 75 cases of evictions and attempted evictions, many of them provoked by refusal of tenants to pay more than the legal rent, have been reported in this area since enactment of the new federal rent control act on July 1, it was revealed today.

Warned Dr. Murray R. Benedict, director of the San Francisco-Bay Defense Rental Area comprising 12 counties in this region:

"This is a dangerous procedure for landlords. Tenants cannot be forced to pay more than the rent prevailing on March 1, except in such cases where substantial improvements were made between March and July. And even in these cases, the increase must be approved by rent officials."

The first successful heavier-than-air flight was made by Wilbur Wright on Dec. 17, 1903.

McAllister Campaign Opens With Statement

Richard T. McAllister today opened his campaign for election to the office of county supervisor from the second district with a statement pledging a square deal to all classes in the county.

RICHARD McALLISTER

"My campaign and my activities in the office when elected," he declared, "will be based solely on providing the new needed type of impartial representation for men and women of every walk of life."

He declared that the "secret session" and "circus" meetings that have brought so much notoriety to the county, in his estimation, stemmed from representation of a few instead of all the people on the board of supervisors. He declared a change in the type and attitude of representation is necessary.

McAllister, resident of San Mateo for the last 12 years, has been identified with civic affairs in recent years. As a member of the junior college board for two years, a member of the charter study committee, member of the county civilian defense council and salvage committee, and trustee of the county blood bank, McAllister has expanded his field of public service throughout the county, following his continued service to organized labor, where he has for eight consecutive terms headed the San Mateo County Central Labor Council.

Decontamination

San Carlos Defense Team Devises Model Gas Kit

SAN CARLOS — Recruits are needed to enlarge the present group of 12 men in the San Carlos Decontamination Squad according to Carl Hoffman, chief of the civilian defense decontamination squad in San Carlos. Men who understand the fundamentals of chemistry are wanted although no special study is required. Volunteers who will be available during the day are particularly needed as only two members are now able to be on call in case of gas attack in the daytime.

Under county instructor Merritt Hosmer's leadership, the poison gas fighters meet each Monday night at the City Hall. Although the government prescribes a five-hour course, it is expected this one will be much longer as the group is constantly getting text books from technical libraries and investigating new phases. Hosmer also instructs the class in general civilian defense.

Nine of the twelve experts are graduate chemists, among whom is Dr. Maurice Amsden, dean of the science department of the University of San Francisco. They have originated a special kit to be carried in squad cars. It is a steel chest containing the eight agents recommended by the war department for combating the effects of war gases.

Hoffman's group plans to visit San Quentin prison as guests of Warden Duffy, where prisoners have volunteered to make more kits for San Carlos, labor free. They will also make special stretchers for the squad, it being impossible to use other first aid stretchers without contaminating them for future use.

Confessed Jersey Slayer Jailed Here June 12

San Mateo County sheriff's office records revealed today that James A. Boyd, 59, who voluntarily confessed in San Francisco this week to the slaying of a New Jersey union leader in 1937, was a prisoner here on June 12.

Boyd was arrested by Redwood City Police Officer E. B. Whitmore on a vagrancy charge, but was released the following morning.

Local officials said that, although Boyd was fingerprinted here, there was no method of checking his identity because New Jersey officers had found no clue to the killing of H. Norman Redwood at his Teaneck, N. J., home and had no fingerprints upon which to base a case.

Boyd made his confession when he was arrested on a drunk charge in San Francisco last weekend.

Meanwhile, a lieutenant of detectives who has become a specialist in New Jersey's unsolved sand hog murder mystery is on his way to San Francisco to see if it is true that fear of death tricked a confession out of the slayer, according to the Associated Press.

Bergen County Prosecutor John A. Breslin Jr. announced in Hackensack, N. J., Boyd, an ex-prohibition agent, answered correctly five test questions put to him through San Francisco police, but that there were many discrepancies in his story that he killed Redwood.

"I want those discrepancies checked right away," Breslin said and ordered to San Francisco Detective Lieut. Theodore Morgan who was permanently assigned to the case immediately after Redwood's body was found.

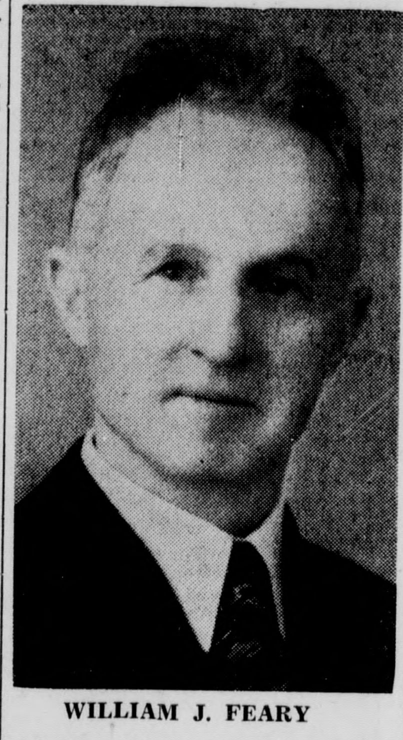
Feary Pleased By Vote Survey

William J. (Bill) Feary, candidate for the office of county tax collector, today pointed out that he has never held public office and he consented to seek election this year only on the insistence of friends familiar with his record of civic service.



WILLIAM J. FEARY

"The people of this county can be assured," he declared, "I shall devote my full time and energy to the office."

Feary has been a resident of the county for 25 years, and has been engaged in the building supply business. For 20 years he managed a building materials firm. He declared he has just completed a survey of the county and is highly pleased with the results.

"The tax collector must be a trained business executive capable of handling collections that total more than four million a year," he pointed out. "In addition his integrity and honesty must be above reproach. After 25 years in this county my record is sufficiently known to convince the people that I can meet these requirements."

Heavy Timbers in Bay Peril Planes, Ships

In an effort to diminish the possibility of serious naval aviation accidents in San Francisco Bay, Vice-Adm. J. W. Greenslade, commandant of the 12th Naval District, today issued a warning to all shipyards and industrial plants on the bay and tributary waters against the careless disposal of heavy timbers and other debris in those waters. It is an established fact that several accidents have in the past been due to collision of seaplanes and light surface craft with floating debris.

It's Still the Wild West:

Sheriffs Hunt Cattle Rustlers

Cattle rustling in the streamlined manner—sans horses and despite rubber shortages—is taking San Mateo County back 75 years to the days when the West was wild and Redwood City was just a youngster, it was learned today.

Five ranchers in the area near Skyline Blvd., on Cahill ridge and Sierra Morano ridge already have suffered at the hands of the new rustlers who apparently operate in a high-powered passenger automobile with trailer attached.

Latest victim and the one person who believes he has glimpsed the transportation facilities used by the rustlers is E. L. Sumner, whose ranch is located near the intersection of Skyline Blvd. and Alpine Rd.

Sumner reported to the San Mateo County sheriff's office that he discovered the bones and skin of a calf buried on his ranch near the highway. Apparently, he told officers, the thieves killed the animal, butchered it and took the meat either for personal use or for sale.

He reported that on two different occasions, late at night, he had seen a high-powered automobile with attached trailer parked on the highway near his ranch and had tried to obtain the license number. On both occasions, he said, the car was driven away before he could approach near enough to attain his purpose.

Since each beef animal is worth from $100 to $150 under existing prices, Sumner is irate about the situation and has offered a reward for information leading to arrest of the rustlers.

He is not the only victim nor is he the only irate rancher in the area. W. J. Condrin, whose ranch is near that of Sumner, has lost stock in the same manner, it was reported. Three others have lost animals which apparently were not butchered, but were taken alive.

Louis Oneal, whose ranch is at the junction of Skyline Blvd. and Page Mill Rd., has lost seven head of cattle; A. Espinosa of Monte Vista lost a pinto horse; George A. Morell, whose ranch is on Monte Bello Ridge, has lost five head of stock.

Since one or two head of cattle nearly always are missing somewhere in the wooded portions of most ranches in the area, Morell said, no absolute count has yet been obtained, but it is known that at least as many as reported above have been taken.

Other ranchers in the district, who so far have not reported losses, include John F. Weylan, James Rolph III, Dr. Thomas Williams, R. A. Isenberg, Dr. Russell Lee, Edwin Albertsworth.

All rustling activities have occurred within the last month, although no definite dates have been established.

The California Cattlemen's Association, of which several of the ranchers are members, offers a standing reward of $200 to anyone giving information leading to the arrest and conviction of cattle rustlers.

Residents of the area affected express the belief that the reduction in traffic and the resulting reduction in the number of patrolmen on the road has left the area open to activities of the members of the gang.

Historical records reveal that in the 1870's and 1880's the same district which is being attacked at the present time was a notorious hideout for rustlers and outlaws of all types. The country there was—and to some extent still is—almost inaccessible and provided a perfect hangout for desperados.

Both Santa Clara and San Mateo County officers are conducting a search for the modern rustlers, but so far report little progress in their investigation.

FREE ON $50 BAIL

Melvin D. Myers, 32, of Hayward is free on $50 cash bail today following his arrest at 1 a.m. Sunday morning on Bayshore Hwy. near San Mateo on a charge of drunk driving. Capt. E. F. Cassell of the California Highway Patrol made the arrest. Myers is scheduled to appear in the court of Judge Hugh F. Mullin Jr. of San Mateo on July 24.

Bay Area Men 45-55 Sought for Patrols

San Francisco Bay Area men between the ages of 45 and 55 are now being recruited for war service, as War Department Civilian Patrolmen, for duty with the San Francisco Port of Embarkation, it was announced today.

More than 100 patrolmen are needed immediately, and many others can be placed in the near future.

As civilian patrolmen, those who qualify for the service will take over the functions of military police in protecting port establishments; operating and enforcing the pass-identification system; controlling and regulating traffic; and guarding against fire, sabotage and negligence.

Pound Handles 3382 Animals

During the year, July 1, 1941, to June 30, 1942, the Redwood City pound received 3382 animals, redeemed 132, sold 76, destroyed 3179, collected $150.75 in pound fees, $151.50 in sales and $218 in miscellaneous receipts.

Although the pound received more dogs and cats than any other animals, it did take care of one fox, three opossum, two deer and one shark, a report to the City Council last night showed.

The shark was destroyed.

REDWOOD CITY Montgomery Ward

U.S. To Open S.M. School Next Month

SAN MATEO — Simultaneous with the receipt of word that the merchant marine cadet training center at Treasure Island has been tentatively scheduled for transfer to San Mateo Point the last two weeks of August, the cities of Burlingame and San Mateo have each agreed to spend not more than $10,000 as their share of vital improvements at the new base.

Fred E. Beer, chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, announced today that at a meeting Tuesday in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, San Mateo, Burlingame representatives agreed to finance the cost of a six-inch water main serving the academy, while San Mateo officials agreed to the necessary expenditures for sewer connections.

The meeting was also attended by the county executive, members of the board of supervisors and other county officials.

It was estimated today in Burlingame that the required 3750 feet of water main and engineering expences would be $7533.75. The main would link with the present connections at Victoria Rd. and Peninsula Ave. at the southeast corner of the city.

Harold Porter, city engineer of San Mateo, has submitted a preliminary estimate of $6500 for the cost of work in putting in the sewer lines. Porter said that petrified clay pipe, bricks, sand and other "non-critical materials" will be used, and therefore, no priorities is needned. Only manhole covers would be unavailable because of the war emergency but the city has a sufficient supply, Porter said.

Beer reported today that the administration building is nearly complete and that the dredger for the channel is expected to arrive today or tomorrow.

The county's role in bringing the academy to San Mateo Point includes extended negotiations with the U. S. Maritime Commission and final purchase recently of 20 acres of property which was then turned over to the coast guard. Estimated total participation of the county, Burlingame and San Mateo is $35,000.

Conservation Is All-Out Problem

President Roosevelt has declared, "Every man, woman and child is a partner in the most tremendous undertaking of our American history." In this "all-out war," conservation presents a challenge for every family, for the more that can be saved—food, metal or other vital war materials—the more our armed forces will have.

It is the patriotic duty of each and everyone to take good care of the things we have and leave no room for waste in America. Women, particularly, have a job on their hands—a 3-fold duty in helping to build the strength of the nation: First, to shop wisely and well, buying food rich in nutrition; second, to preserve that food, to keep its health-giving qualities; and, third, to cook it properly to retain its natural vitamins and minerals.

Here's where modern home appliances prove their supreme value. Safely stored in your gas or electric refrigerator, meats, vegetables, fruits, milk, butter and eggs will remain fresh and tasty for days. This means fewer trips to the grocery store, and a saving of tires and gasoline, too, for thrifty housewives can lay in a week's supply of food at one time.

Modern gas and electric ranges efficiently perform the third patriotic duty—that of cooking foods properly to retain all their nutritive values. The secret of vitamin cooking is to cook as rapidly as possible and with just enough water so that there will be but a few spoonfuls of richly flavored liquid left when the vegetables are tender. In oven cookery "slow roasting" of meats preserves all the natural juices and flavor, and reduces shrinkage, thus providing additional savings.

Housewives who follow these simple rules not only perform their patriotic duty, but enjoy the benefits of healthier, more nourishing meals at lower cost.

SALUTE!

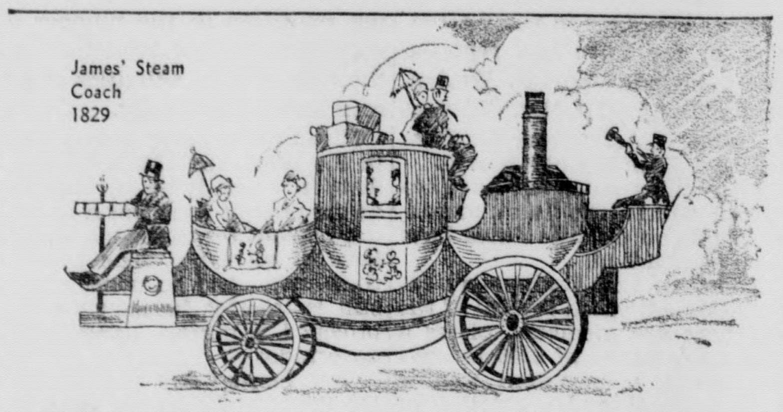
Auto-Oddities

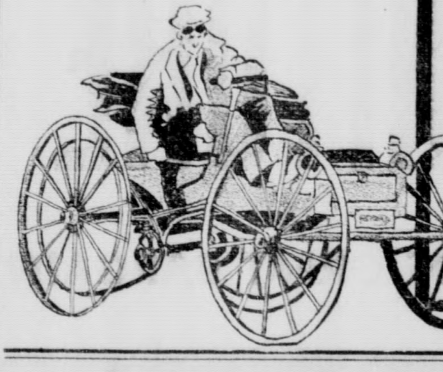
By the MOBILGAS Reporter



Declared to have been the first really-practical steam carriage, the coach built by a man named James—113 years ago in England—was one of the distinguished ancestors of the modern auto. It was driven by four cylinders (two on each axle) powered with a big steam boiler.

"THE ANIMATED BUGGY"

That's what they called the 1900 HOLSMAN, pictured below. The makers pointed to this gas-propelled, two-cylinder "buggy" as the vehicle for doctors and others. They guaranteed a speed of 30 miles per hour. So help us, a few Holsmans are still in use.



SO HELP US IT'S TRUE!

In 1919 — 90 years after the James Coach — there were 112 makes of cars in America. And, what names! Imagine driving a "Ricketts," or "Hay-Berg," "Kidder," or "Bugmobile," or—of all things—the "Practical Piggins." Yes, cars were given some queer names.

Ice Follies Still Attracts Crowds

Biggest attraction for Bay Area entertainment seekers continued this week to be the glittering and glamorous Ice Follies of 1942, all-new edition of the famous skating show, now appearing nightly at Winterland, in San Francisco.

The smooth flowing, richly costumed revue is steadily adding to its audience total of many millions.

Fourth daytime performance of the ice spectacle has been set for Saturday, July 25. The complete night show will be given, commencing at 2:30 p.m., it was declared by the management, and tickets are available at special rates.

The current edition of the Ice Follies is completely different from the ones which have delighted more than a million persons in San Francisco since 1939. Production, costumes, lighting and music have been entirely changed, great names have been added to the national skating stars.

Amazing to those who see the Ice Follies for the first time is the transposition of dance routines to ice skating. Experts explain that figure skating is based upon dance steps, with a rapid and continuous rhythm almost indescribably beautiful. Those who have seen the show point out that the seemingly effortless flow of action creates the illusion of dancing in the air.

Comedy is being stressed, along with the graceful performance of highly trained precision numbers which feature the gorgeous "Ice Folliettes." Comedians again include the renowned team of Shipstad and Johnson; Frick and Frack, the McKellen Brothers and others. Bess Ehrhardt and Roy Shipstad, Fran Claudet and Osborne Colson, Idi Papez and Karl Swack are among the other famous ice skating stars appearing nightly.

Ice Follies tickets are available for every performance at Winterland, WAlnut 0112; at Sherman Clay boxoffices in San Francisco and in Oakland; and by mail order addressed to Winterland, Post and Steiner Sts., San Francisco.

20-30 Club to Start Membership Drive

Fred Silvey of Redwood City, newly-elected sub-district 20-30 Club governor, today announced plans for an intensive membership campaign to fill the gaps left by the draft in his organization. He pointed out that the 20-30 Club is probably hardest hit of all service organizations by the Selective Service Act.

Silvey, who was elected at a sub-district meeting in Burlingame Sunday, now heads the 20-30 Clubs located in Richmond, Oakland, Alameda, Hayward, San Francisco, San Mateo-Burlingame, Redwood City and Palo Alto.

Rail Siding To Boost Port Volume

A larger volume of business for the Port of Redwood City was anticipated by port commissioners today from a proposed railroad siding to be constructed by the Pacific Bridge Co. when it leases land at the end of this month for navy construction work.

Edmund Scott, commission chairman, said that the rail line would be constructed over land to be leased and other lands for which the commission will grant an easement and will be used by the commission to transport goods en route to ships.

"Until now," the chairman said, "our port has been handicapped because it was unable to handle heavy goods bound overseas direct from railroad cars."

Pacific Bridge Co. will build cribbings for navy work at Hunter's Point. More than five million feet of timber will be used and the project will employ approximately 300 men for a year, it was disclosed.

Discussion of the anticipated rise in port activities was made last night at a commission meeting at which commissioners also set aside $427 to purchase war insurance against the possible enemy bombing of port improvements.

San Mateo Council Names New Mayor

With the council at its full strength of five members for the first time since May 4, Edward J. Reilly was elected president of the San Mateo City Council and Mayor of the city at the council's reorganization meeting.

Mayor Reilly succeeds Mayor Emeritus Frank P. Simmon, who resigned May 4. Edward E. Keller, who was vice-president of the council under Simmon, has served as acting mayor since Simmon's resignation.

TAKE YOUR FOOT OFF THE GAS!

Remember how we used to get into the car and just start off—sometimes with only half an idea where we were going?

We didn't have to think about tires and gasoline then. And saving didn't mean very much.

But now, with energies all diverted into one vital channel, we must think before we move. We have to think before we buy, and ask ourselves: "Do we need it?" "Would this kind last longer than that?" "Can I get a better value by paying a little more?"

R.C. City Council Okehs Pay Boost for Employes

A proposed Redwood City Civilian Defense ordinance is in the hands of City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy today undergoing revision following an informal meeting of city council Monday night before their regular session.

Planned in the ordinance, according to Mayor Floyd D. Granger, is a two-phased organization headed by City Mgr. C. L. Dimmitt who will work under the mayor and city council.

One phase of the organization will deal with civilian services such as war bond sales and salvage operations while the other will be concerned with emergency groups such as air raid wardens.

In event of disaster the mayor, by city charter provisions, will step in as commander of the emergency branch of the organization.

SALARIES BOOSTED

Given final passage at the regular meeting were the salary ordinance and war bonus ordinance by which salaries of city employes were fixed for the year and each employe was granted a $15-a-month war bonus to meet the rising costs of living.

Councilman W. M. Werder asked that the bonus go into effect for regular employes as soon as they start thereby being effective for rookie policemen and firemen during their probationary periods of service.

Not effected will be "casual" workers who undertake per diem labor for the city at irregular intervals.

OTHER BUSINESS

Council also:

Disclaimed a responsibility for an accident in which Hannah M. Courtney fell on a city hall mat on Apr. 23, 1942, and for which she claims $2500.

Approved the committee recommended by Ferris W. Miles, administrator, to serve as the Redwood City Committee for the Conservation of Vital War Transportation. Included on the board are Albert J. McKnight, representing industry; Frank Shearer, labor; Neal Van Sooy, press; W. H. Thorpe, police; and general members, Ronald Anderson, Lew Jenkins, Paul McCarthy, T. N. Thompson and Carl Stoner.

Refused a request from the planning commission brought by Paul McCarthy, commission secretary, for a 5-cent yearly levy for capital expenditure on the grounds that money should be conserved during the national emergency.

Noted a communication from the San Mateo Civilian Defense organization that all 18 fire departments in the county had signed a mutual aid plan.

Refused to act on an anonymous complaint that W. E. Landstrom was violationg zoning ordinances by conducting a wholesale health food plant in his home at 1603 James Ave.

POSTPONES ACTION

Postponed action on a request from the mayor that all city cars be identified by a seal.

Noted a promise by the city manager that bleachers will be provided for the next concert of the city band.

Passed an agreement with the California Personnel Board to have that organization conduct civil service examinations for the city.

Moved that every city employe be required to become a certified Civilian Defense worker.

Noted that the Evans property at 897 Redwood Ave. has been sold and placed the matter on the agenda for next meeting to insure its improvement; referred to police a complaint that property at 228 Elwood St. was being used in violation of zoning ordinances; heard H. H. Eilers promise to improve his property at 1926 Roosevelt Ave.

Noted that the Southern Pacific Co. has promised to investigate possibility of installing crossing protection at the intersection of the railroad and Jefferson Ave. and Maple St. Councilman Carl Britschgi requested that city ordinances be revised to prevent the railroad from parking cars where they hinder view of the tracks. This was referred to the city attorney.

Granted a request of the city manager that age limits for the hiring of policemen be changed so that men between the ages of 21 and 32 be eligible for employment, and those between the ages of 18 and 32 be eligible for fire department posts.

San Carlos Man Wins Commission

James Lee Bossemeyer, San Carlos, has been commissioned a first lieutenant in the Army Quartermaster Corps and has reported for duty at San Francisco Port of Embarkation, Fort Mason, Calif., it was announced today.

Lieutenant Bossemeyer is a graduate of University of Arkansas where he was a member of the varsity football team. He served in the students army training corps unit at the university during the last war and entered the National Park Service in 1934.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bossemeyer, reside in Fayetteville, Ark.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

★ How to cut down on waste by eliminating haste ★ A list of foods that are really low priced ★ An illustrated story worth reading

The shoes are large but we'll try our best to fill them

You've probably seen many new faces among Safeway people. For each day more and more Safeway men are joining the armed forces. We tell you this with pride and with the hope that you'll understand if our service isn't quite as good as you've come to expect. The shoes of experienced Safeway men are hard to fill—but our new men and women are trying their best.

These specially low "Saturday" prices are good for 5 BIG DAYS each week at Safeway!

Haste in shopping makes waste in food and in time too

It has always been our family duty to waste as little food as possible—today it is our patriotic duty. And certainly the most effective way to do this is to plan menus and shopping lists together—a week at a time. For this gives you the opportunity to fit one day's leftovers into the next day's menu—to vary meals—to keep meals well-rounded nutritionally—to stick to the budget—and to plan definite times for shopping, thus cutting down on shopping trips. But streamlined shopping schedules take careful planning. And at all times the perishability of different meats and vegetables must be kept in mind.

For meats, you might select shoulder lamb chops, enough ham loaf for two nights, and Swiss steak. If stored in the refrigerator, most meats will keep about a week; cured meats like ham and bacon will keep longer; but ground meats, poultry, and fresh fish should be cooked the same day or day after.

For vegetables, you might choose corn, string beans, carrots, tomatoes, cucumbers, green onions, lettuce, and celery. That's not counting the potatoes and onions you'd have on hand already. As soon as you get home, wash the vegetables quickly, dry, and store them in a covered container in the refrigerator. Use green and leafy vegetables that day or the next. Carrots and corn will keep longer.

Now let's say, for example, that you are buying these meats and vegetables on Monday to last until Friday. Here are the dinner menus the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau suggests you might have planned before buying.

MONDAY DINNER

Baked Ham Loaf garnished with Canned Spiced Peaches
Scalloped Potatoes

Flying Box Cars, Old Destroyer Wage War on Aleutian Japs

BY KEITH WHEELER

(Copyright, 1942, by Chicago Times Inc.)

ABOARD U. S. SEAPLANE TENDER IN THE ALEUTIANS (Delayed)—The wind is a wild 70-knot gale hurling whitecaps across the bay, and tonight no planes will be in the air—neither ours nor the Japanese.

The Battle of the Aleutians is not yet over. The Japs are still in Kiska.

But tonight it's all right to relax a little and consider how things have been with this unglamorous little tub and her brood of lumbering PBY Catalina flying boats.

She's a little ship, old and cramped. Once she was a four-piper destroyer but they ripped out half her power plant and used the former firerooms to store extra food, aviation gas, bombs and men. Then they sent her out to nurse the Cats.

SHE'S NO WARSHIP

Not even her most charitable friend could call her a warship. She's no more a fighting ship than are the 15-ton flying boats she serves. But the war has produced no more valorous chapter than the stubborn fight the Cats and the tender are making against the first invasion of American soil since 1812.

For Kiska, after all, is American soil. Bleak, remote, dreary and useless as it is, Kiska still is America.

The little tender lay in Dutch Harbor on June 3, when the Mitsubishi's first howled through the clouds mantling Mt. Ballyhoo's frosty crown. It was there she received her baptism of fire, and when a zero caught a cat on the water and burned it up the tender's crew saw the first of her charges destroyed—a heart-breaking sight, to be repeated more than once in the savage days that followed.

TENDER SHOOTS 3 PLANES

(One paragraph censored at this point.)

When the Jap planes went away, they left two zeros and a Mitsubishi shot full of the tender's machinegun fire and burning on Mt. Ballyhoo's flanks.

In the days that followed, the Catalinas flew ceaselessly up and down the island chain in the eternal miasmic fogs. And where the cats went the tender followed, lugging gasoline, fresh bombs, hot meals and a few hours shelter from one foggy danger cove to another.

Once in her uncharted wanderings I am told she caught a Jap submarine on the surface. She isn't a fighting ship, as was said before, but she stopped long enough to drop four depth charges and saw the crushed undersea boat rise to the surface, roll over and sink.

HAGGARD WRECK

(One paragraph censored at this point.)

In time the PBY crews were haggard wrecks and their planes weren't much better. Some men flew 102 hours in two weeks and the planes were beached for repairs only when they would fly no longer. Whenever a plane cracked up in the surf, bleary-eyed repair crews stripped off its usable parts to patch planes shot to tatters by the Japs.

The Cat pilots, worn as they were, viewed with sarcastic humor the chores required of their elephantine craft. They were flying their clumsy crates as dive bombers. A PBY is as big as a barn, and maneuvers like a battleship.

Wryly the pilots dubbed their outfit the "PBY Interceptor Command" and designated Dutch Harbor "PBY Elimination Base."

24-HOUR MEAL SERVICE

At one time quite a few hulking planes were basing on the little tender. Men took two-hour turns in her unmade bunks and then were routed out to fly their reloaded planes to Kiska—making room for other, even wearier crews to rest. The tender's cooks served meals 24 hours a day and a crew that landed judiciously could have its choice of breakfast or lunch. Mealtimes ran together and sometimes overlapped.

One crew flew three round trips to Kiska with only three-hour rest periods between the long hops.

One PBY found itself shadowed by a faster Japanese four-motored seaplane. The Jap showed no disposition to attack and seemed willing to tag along forever. The PBY captain refused to go home and thus lead the enemy to his base. When their strange game of hide-and-seek had gone on eight hours the PBY skipper grew bored with waiting for attack and decided to bring the matter to a close. He turned to attack the Jap plane. It ran away.

DIVE BOMBING PBYS

Dive bombing a PBY turned out to be something the designer had never thought about. Over Kiska the pilots would force the nose down and go rumbling through the soup like a landslide. The heavy plane would plunge into the clear over the Japs. The bombs would fall clear and both pilots would have to heave back on the yoke to pull their plummeting juggernaut out of its dive. The big boats would pull out with their long panels flapping like a seagull's wings and nobody knows how they hung together.

One plane shadowed a Japanese carrier 16 hours, ducking in and out of the soup. Finally a Zero closed with him and shot off his rudder. He gave up then and flew home, unable to turn except with aileron control. His crippled plane gave up almost within sight of the base and he landed at sea. A patrol boat rescued the crew.

TENDER MOVES OUT

The time finally came when the tender and her cats could no longer maintain their precarious location. They loaded the flying boats with the last of the gasoline, took aboard the villagers, two white men, one white woman and a dozen or so Aleuts, burned the village and pulled out.

Now, reprovisioned, refueled and ready for more, they're settled in another base, ready to fight or move without notice.

Burnu Acquanette, above, had a big movie buildup as the "Venezuelan Volcano." However, when called on to present her passport to register with the Screen Actors' Guild, it turned out that she was all American—an Arapahoe Indian born in Wyoming.
